Plug the clear plastic modular plug (#1 in photo) on the AVX adapter into the headset port on your phone.

2. CONNECT HEADSET INTO AVX ADAPTER

Plug the modular plug on the end of your headset cord* into the headset port (#2 in photo) on the AVX adapter.

3. SET THE COMPATIBILITY SWITCH

Make a test call. After you are on the call, insert the end of the MIC ADJ tool (#5 in photo) into the Compatibility Switch setting cavity (#3 in photo). Start talking and push the switch sideways to the left (setting 1) and then to the right (setting 2). Choose the one that makes your voice sound the best to the person on the other end of the call. Keep the caller on the phone for Step 4.

4. SET THE MICROPHONE VOLUME ADJUSTMENT

If the person on the other end of the call says that your voice is too loud or too soft, increase or decrease the microphone volume as follows.

1. Hold the AVX adapter in position as shown (#4 in photo) with the bottom label upright and facing you.
2. Insert MIC ADJ tool (#5 in photo) into the small hole on the bottom of the unit (#4 in photo) and begin to talk. Instruct the person on the other end of the call to tell you when your voice is at an acceptable level.
3. Turn the tool clockwise to increase the volume of your voice. Turn counter-clockwise to decrease the volume of your voice.

* If your headset does not end in a modular plug, you may need a lower cord for the headset. VXI sells lower headset cords with VXI, Plantronics and GN Netcom compatible connectors. Visit www.vxicorp.com/passport for purchase or call VXI at 1-800-742-8588.
